- Case studies:
 - COFFEE developed a fully immersive biometric activation for Oppenheimer Funds to help generate the first ever Optimist Index - a personal report on each potential investor. The Optimist Index reports are shared with financial advisors to ensure advisors suggest funds that fit the investor's risk. <https://app.box.com/s/tmvu2gzqmktpf9wclpt8msav1jmgp>
 - Ketel One Virtual Reality provides consumers the ability to discover the home distillery of Ketel One during its 325th anniversary. By using a combination of 360° video and CGI animation, consumers can step behind the bar and make a signature cocktail through an immersive VR experience. <http://vr.ketelone.com/>
 - Lifetime Entertainment Networks wanted to increase excitement surrounding the Lizzie Borden chronicles. "Lizzie's Next Victim" connected to the user's Facebook and location via Facebook Graph API and Geocoding API, respectively. The socialgration experience generated over 400,000 unique users with an average of 3.5 minutes per session life and a 28% share rate. <http://ffmpeg-apache-1937227092.us-west-2.elb.amazonaws.com/home>
 - Travel Alberta was looking for a way to reach a younger, digital savvy audience to promote tourism in Alberta, Canada. COFFEE developed a virtual exploration that leveraged 360° gyroscopic ad units, inviting customers to join in on a digital adventure. The display ad generated .57% CTR throughout the 2-month campaign. <http://imc-clients-cf.s3.amazonaws.com/prereleases/TravelAlberta/ads/test.html>
